

Kellerei
Cantina Terlan

Wine Advocate impressed by Cantina Terlan

“These new releases from Cantina di Terlano are impressive. As much as I admire the top wines, I simply adore the entry-level bottling for their unbeatable combination of quality, value and regional/variety typicality,” is the comment of Antonio Galloni in the February 2012 edition of Robert Parker’s The Wine Advocate.

Nova Domus Terlaner Riserva 2008: 93 points

“The 200 Terlaner Riserva Nova Domus is big, rich and expansive. Layers of rich, tropical fruit are buffered by vibrant acidity in this broad-shouldered expressive white.”

Kreuth Chardonnay 2009: 93 points

“The 2009 Chardonnay Kreuth is impressive. I have seldom encountered an Alto Adige Chardonnay where fruit, structure and terroir are all so beautifully balanced.”

Lunare Gewürztraminer 2009: 93 points

“The 2009 Gewürztraminer Lunare is magnificent. There is so much intensity in the aromas and flavors, yet the wine remains weightless.

Winkl Sauvignon Blanc 2010: 92 points

“It is marvelously focused, deep and bursting with character. There is no shortage of personality here. A complex, multidimensional finish rounds things out in style. This is a fabulous showing.”

Porphy Lagrein Riserva 2008: 92 points

“The 2008 Lagrein Riserva Poprhyr is very pretty in this vintage. There is a tension in the 2008 that is palpable.”

Gewürztraminer 2010: 92 points

The 2010 Gewürztraminer is gorgeous. [...] All of the elements come together beautifully in this large-scaled, impeccable white. I loved it.”

Quarz Sauvignon Blanc 2009: 90 points

“The 2009 Sauvignon Quarz boasts impressive depth and richness.”

Montigl Pinot Noir Riserva 2008: 90 points

“The 2008 Pinot Noir Riserva Montigl has acquired pretty notes of tobacco, spices, herbs and leather, all of which add considerable nuance to the fruit. [...] it is attractive for its complexity.”

Pinot Bianco 2010: 90 points

“The 2010 Pinot Bianco is impeccable. [...] what truly stands out is the wine’s textural brilliance and creamy, expressive finish. This is a dazzling wine for the money.”

